

I FIGHT TO INSPIRE MY KIDS...

UNITED WE WIN

LIVE UNITED[®]

I always did well in school. I had good grades and I loved going to school. Things changed when I got pregnant and had my first daughter while in high school. I had to do what I thought was best for her, so I dropped out of school so I could support her. I made it a goal to go back to school to get my GED, but life kept pushing that goal farther away. After having my second child, I started taking classes at LARA. Things were going well, but then I become pregnant with my third child, making attending in-person classes practically impossible. Fortunately, I was able to continue taking classes online, and thanks to the support of my children and the teachers at LARA, I received my GED and graduated high school. I want my success, persistence, and determination to be an example to my children. If I can do this, they can do anything they set their minds to. Thanks to United Way's support of LARA, I was able to achieve my dream of finishing school and I can be an inspiration for others.

Join the fight. Live United.[®]
See Selina's story at uwlafayette.org

United Way of Greater Lafayette