

I FIGHT FOR A PATHWAY FORWARD...

UNITED WE WIN

LIVE UNITED[®]

When I was younger, I didn't care much about life and I didn't have the best relationship with my family. That changed when I was inspired by a guest speaker at my high school. I started doing well in school, work, and building better relationships. Things were finally going well. It all came crashing down when my mom suddenly passed away. I gave up on everything. That's when I started using drugs. I was in and out of jail, continuing down the slope of addiction. With the birth of my nephew, I fought for a change, but the path to recovery wasn't easy. My friends and I established the Recovery Coalition to build connections for others to have the support they need. As those needs change, so does our programming. Thanks to resources funded by United Way, recovery is possible. A good life is possible.

Join the fight. Live United[®].
